

Great Ball of Fire

Foundation Patterns, page 2 of 6

Four identical quadrants make up the quilt center. We've highlighted the position of this block (block V) in the upper left quadrant of the photographed quilt.

Pattern is the reverse of the finished block.

Block V
Make 4

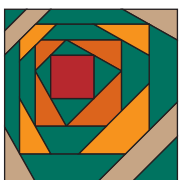

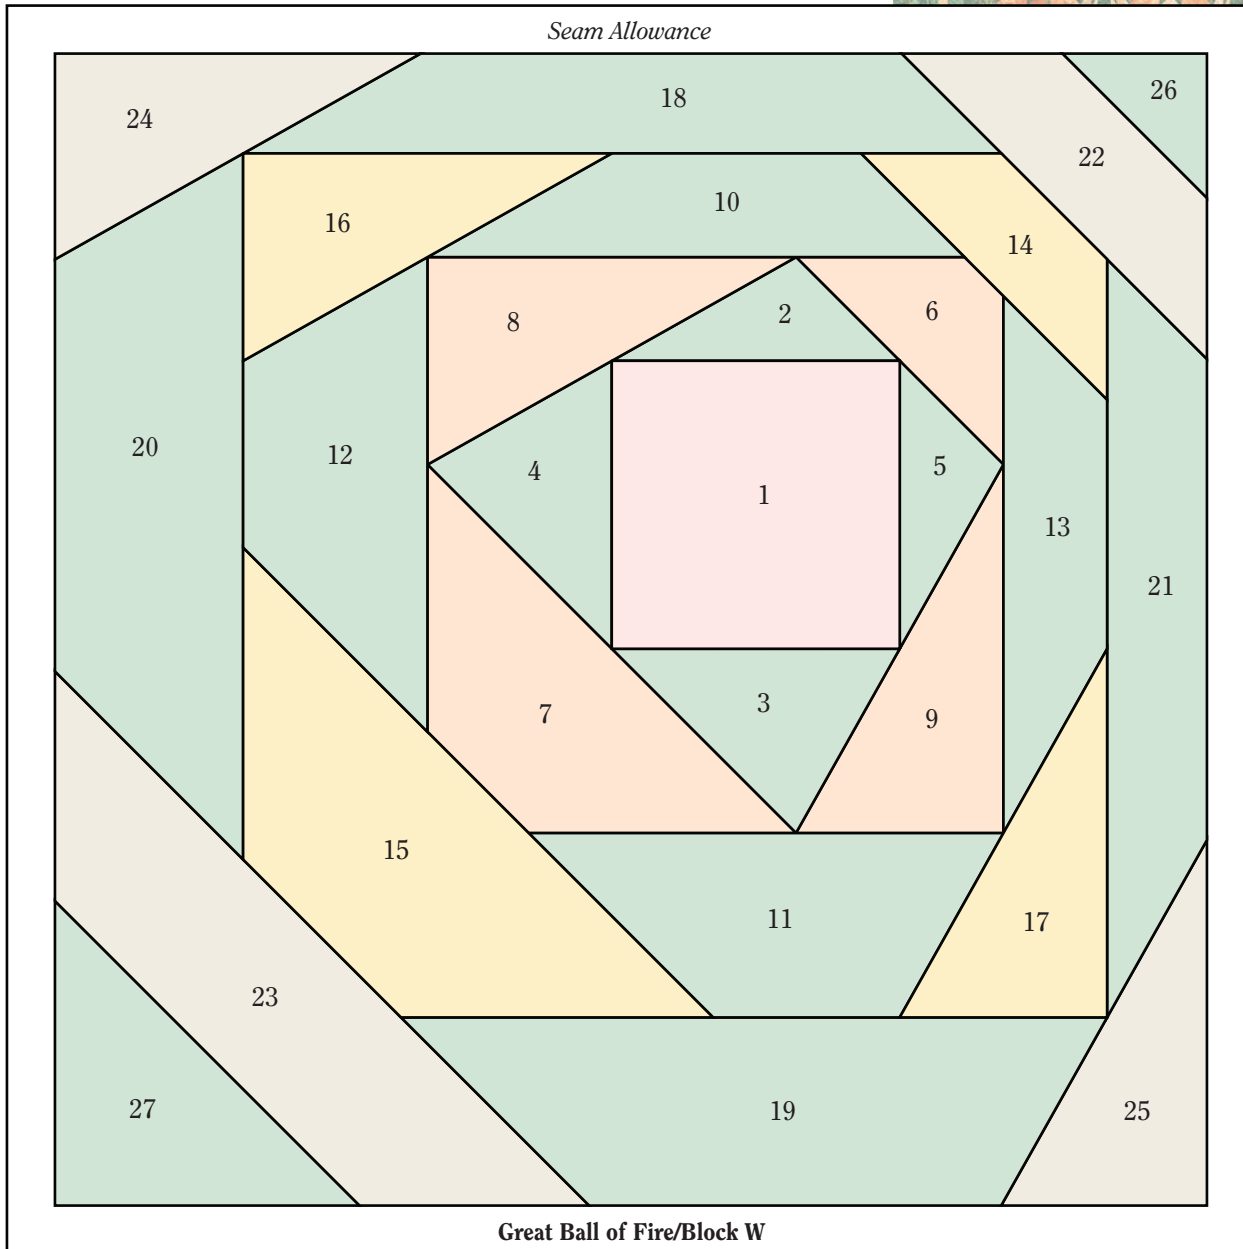

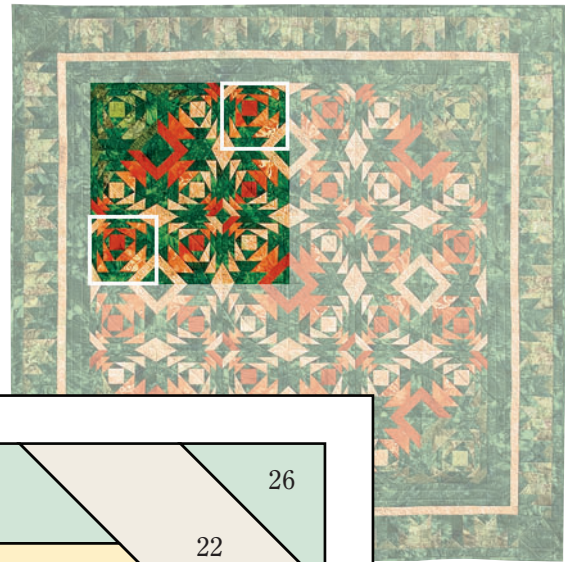

Be sure your printed patterns match the measurements published in QUILTMAKER. If your pattern sizes are different, check your print settings to make sure there is no page scaling—you should print the page at 100% or actual size.

—|—————|
This line should measure 2".

Great Ball of Fire

Foundation Patterns, page 3 of 6

Four identical quadrants make up the quilt center. We've highlighted the positions of this block (block W) in the upper left quadrant of the photographed quilt.

Block W
Make 8

Pattern is the reverse of the finished block.

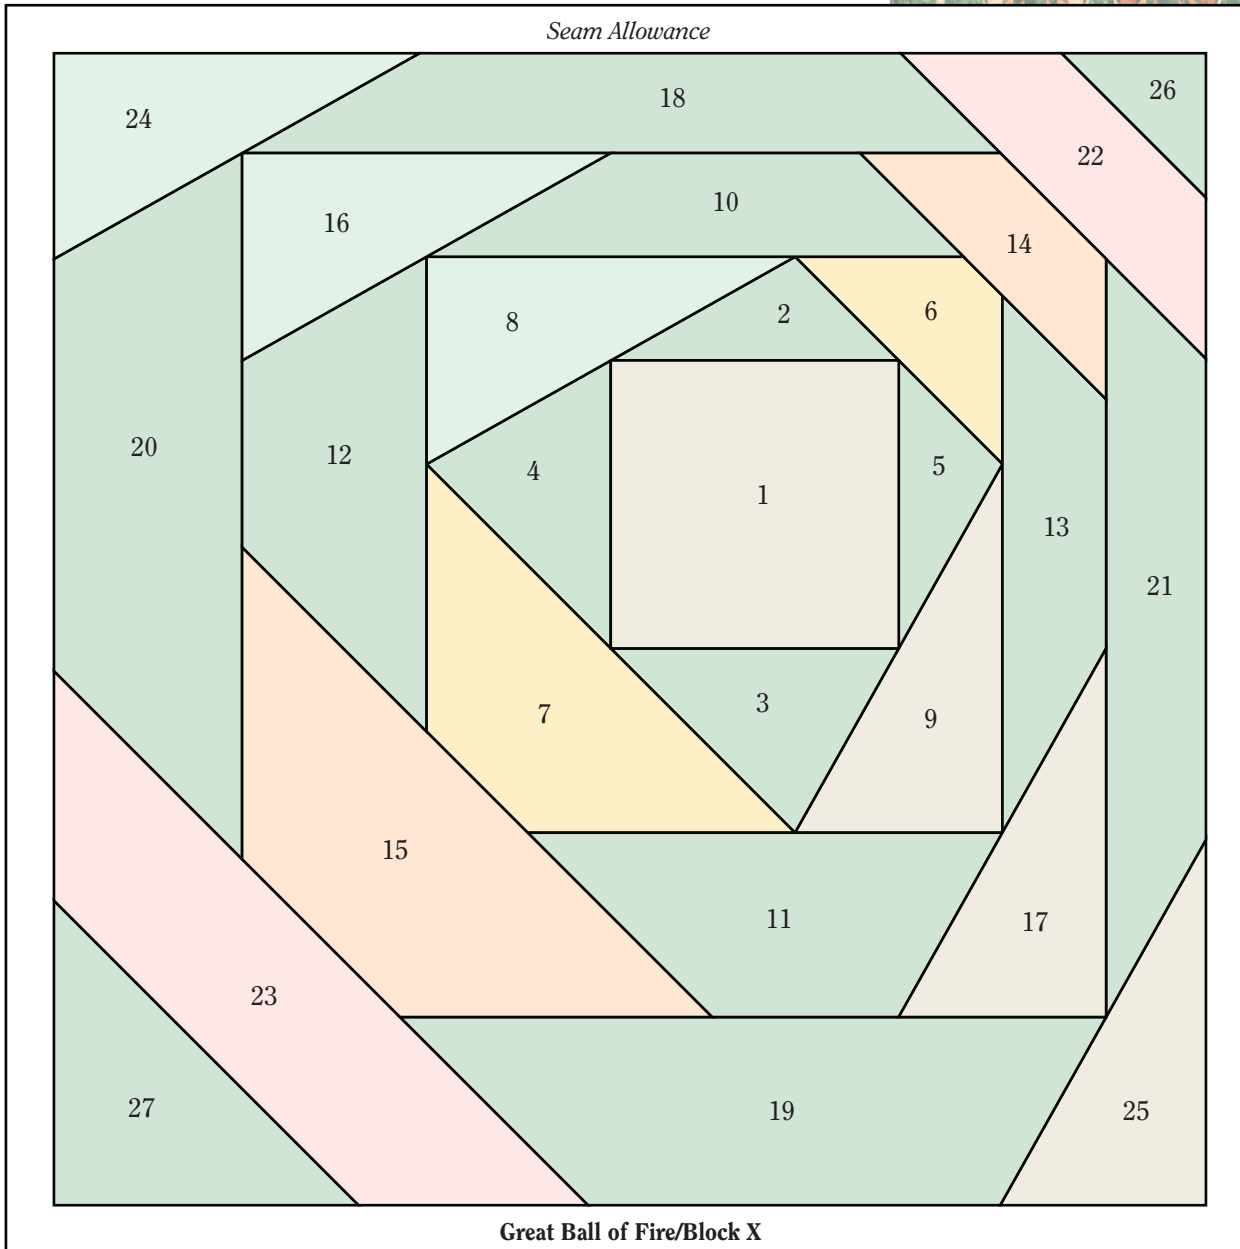

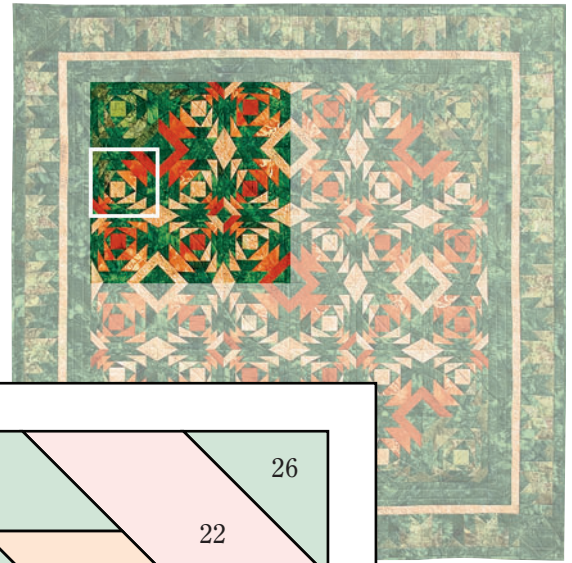

Be sure your printed patterns match the measurements published in QUILTMAKER. If your pattern sizes are different, check your print settings to make sure there is no page scaling—you should print the page at 100% or actual size.

—| This line should measure 2".

Great Ball of Fire

Foundation Patterns, page 4 of 6

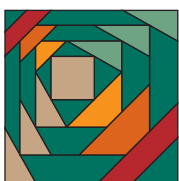

Four identical quadrants make up the quilt center. We've highlighted the position of this block (block X) in the upper left quadrant of the photographed quilt.

Pattern is the reverse of the finished block.

Be sure your printed patterns match the measurements published in QUILTMAKER. If your pattern sizes are different, check your print settings to make sure there is no page scaling—you should print the page at 100% or actual size.

—| This line should measure 2". |—

Block X
Make 4

Great Ball of Fire

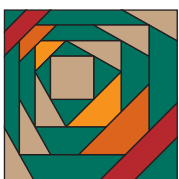

Foundation Patterns, page 5 of 6

Four identical quadrants make up the quilt center. We've highlighted the positions of this block (block Y) in the upper left quadrant of the photographed quilt.

Pattern is the reverse of the finished block.

Be sure your printed patterns match the measurements published in QUILTMAKER. If your pattern sizes are different, check your print settings to make sure there is no page scaling—you should print the page at 100% or actual size.

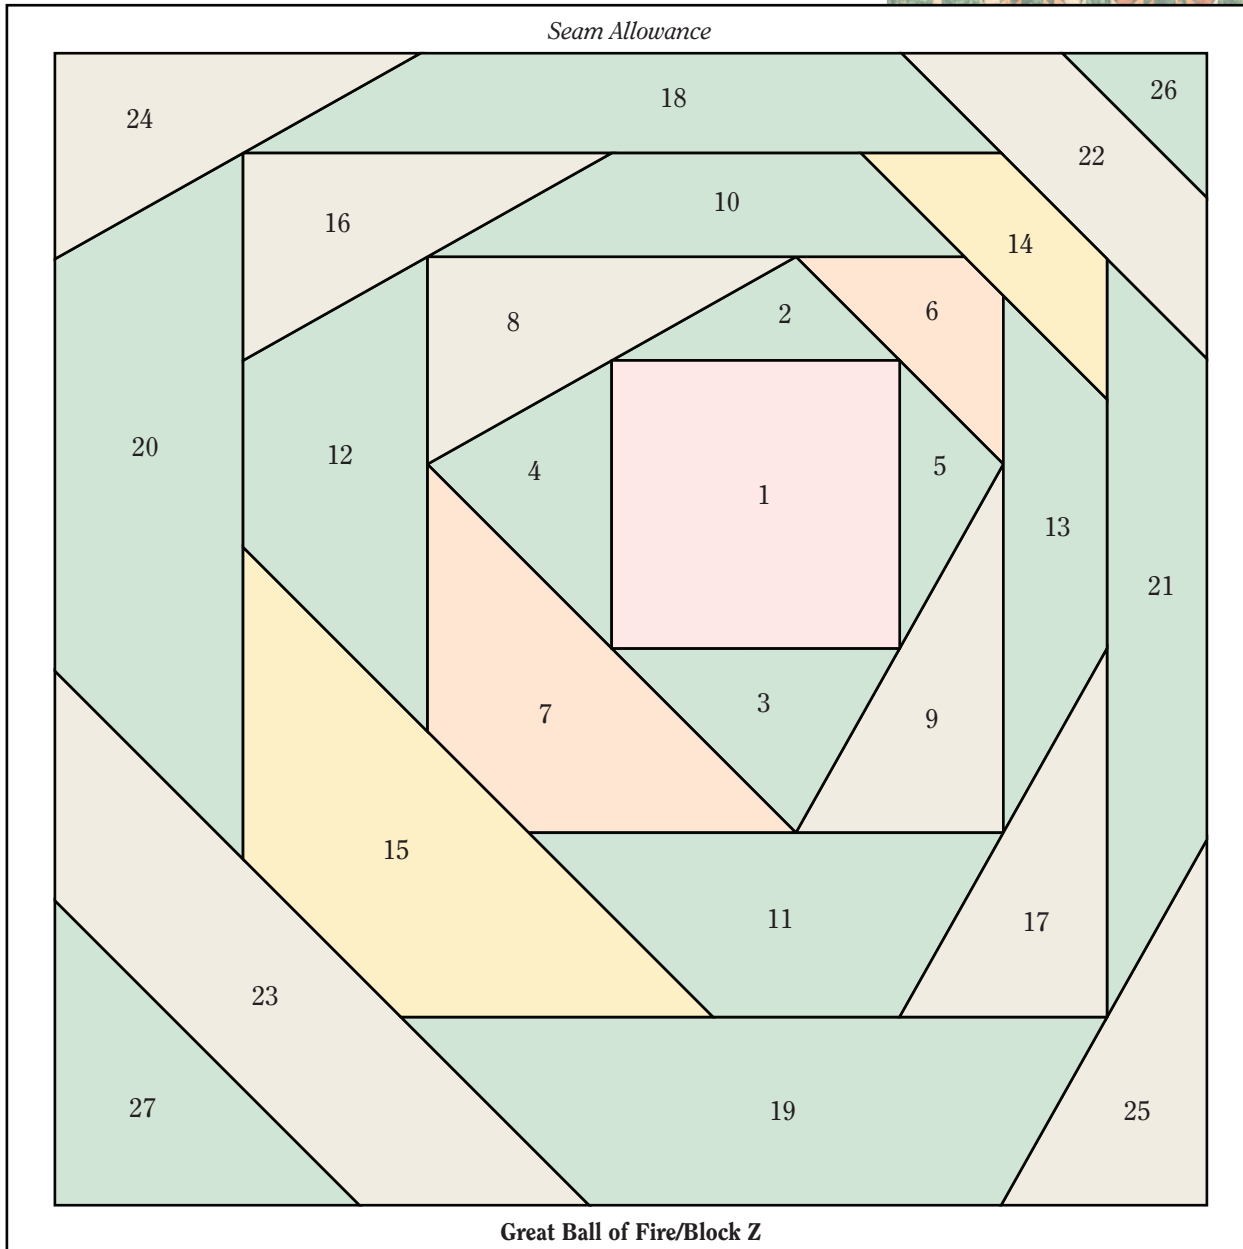

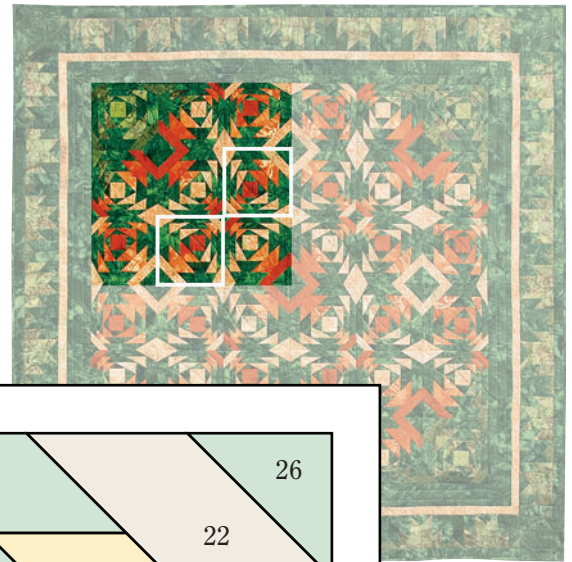

Block Y
Make 8

Great Ball of Fire

Foundation Patterns, page 6 of 6

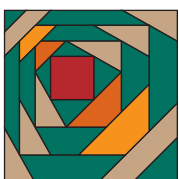

Four identical quadrants make up the quilt center. We've highlighted the positions of this block (block Z) in the upper left quadrant of the photographed quilt.

Pattern is the reverse of the finished block.

Be sure your printed patterns match the measurements published in QUILTMAKER. If your pattern sizes are different, check your print settings to make sure there is no page scaling—you should print the page at 100% or actual size.

—| This line should measure 2". |—

Block Z
Make 8